Kovach, Glick, and Goodman Head Classes for 1953-54

Each class election was close. The unsuccessful candidates for president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and social chairman respectively were: seniors Don Shagrin, Dan Clawson, Marlyn Speer, Jack Doyle, and Barbara Douglas; juniors Norman Jacobs, Jim Breitweg, Ann Sherby, Bob Taft, and Mary Jane Price; sophomores Jim Greene, George Brown, Beverly Biederman, Dick Danford, and Bob Mears.

The candidate had to have an average grade of "C" or better during the second semester of 1952-53, have personal integrity, responsibility, and co-operation, and have conformity with the Student Council Point System of office holding. Each homeroom selected a slate of one person for each office and instructed the delegate elected to serve on the nominating committee to vote for this slate on the first ballot. The elections were held Thursday, October 27.

Good luck to all the new class officers!

Announce Play Cast; School Life Is Theme

"Curtain going up!" will be the cry heard backstage on the nights of December 11 and 12, when the Shaker High Dept. of Drama unveils its first production of the year. The play is "Letters to Lucerne," directed by Miss Margot Klein, new to the faculty this year. Roger Silberman will act as student director.

The cast of nine girls and four boys, chosen through open tryouts the week of October 12, is as follows: Erna Schmidt, Melinda Shuster; Olga Kirinski, Alice Saunders; Bingo Hill, Helen Dickey; Sally Jackson, Sally Brown; Felice Renoir, Marilyn Howell; Marion Curwood, Peggy Beeson; Mrs. Hunter, Sue Lowry; Miss Linder, Barbara Higgins; Margarethe, Sue Berger; Hans Schmidt, Dick Woody; Gustave, Larry Gusman; Koppler, Don Viny; and Francois, Mike Smuckler.

The action of the play centers around an international girls' school in Lucerne, Switzerland, during the first days of World War II. Through the letters that arrive from home telling of the horrors of war, personal conflicts arise among the girls. They are torn between loyalty to their respective countries and friendship for one another.

College Night Aids Students

On November 10, representatives of 105 colleges will meet at Shaker High to give both students and parents an opportunity to gain more knowledge of the college programs and thus to make a wise college choice. Students have signed up to interview a maximum of three representatives, and schedules to satisfy each individual have been arranged. College Night is made possible by close co-operation between P.-T. A. and school.

A reception will be held in our new social room from 5:30 to 6:30 for the college representatives, the board members of the P.-T.A., and the staff. At 6:30 a dinner provided by the P.T.A. will be served in the cafeteria by Y-Teen girls. In attendance at this dinner will be those who enjoyed the reception, including Mayor and Mrs. Barkley, Board of Education members and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Slade, Mr. and Mrs. Main, Mr. David, Mr. and Mrs. Carney, Mr. and Mrs. Stillwell, Mr. Simpson, and Sarge Karch.

There will be a short meeting in the large auditorium at 8:00 for students, parents, and representatives. After Mrs. Lincoln C. Dickey, president of the P.-T.A., greets the audience, Mr. Rupp will give directions for the evening's procedure. The representatives will meet students and parents in assigned rooms, having half hour conferences with three successive groups. Members of the staff will assist the representatives at these meetings. After the third conference, the students and their parents will have the opportunity to revisit a representative of a college in which they are particularly interested, or to get acquainted with a fourth one not scheduled for them. The evening program will be concluded at 10:30 when the period for the unscheduled interviews ends.

Here's Help Wanted! Shakerite Asks Aid

The Shakerite has begun its sales tax stamp drive for this semester with a representative from each homeroom competing for prizes which the paper will provide for the three top homerooms. First prize will be $15; second, $10, and third, $5. It is hoped that everyone will contribute to this drive so necessary to the Shakerite.

All funds received from the tax-stamp program will be used for more and better pictures in the paper—a purpose surely deserving of good support as the paper will be more interesting to more people if more pictures can be provided.

This year the Shakerite staff plans to publish twelve issues, two more than last year. Obviously, this increase will improve coverage of events of interest to all Shakerites—and will help bring the paper out with newer news. Obviously too, this will cost more money than ten issues would cost. Right now the Shakerite does not have this money. The staff hopes to get the necessary funds, and can only do so with the full support of every Shakerite.

We'll do the work if you bring in the stamps to help us.

Shakerites Cast Their Ballots In Annual C. E. P. Mock Election

Thursday, October 29, five days before their parents went to the polls, 477 Shaker students trickled out of study halls and lunch and came before and after school to vote on the same ballot that the grown-ups were to use. This ballot consisted mostly of county issues, including a welfare levy, subway bond issue, city operating levy, the erection of a county government building, and an urban redevelopment bond which may indirectly determine whether this area is to be a super-city or a super-slum. Most directly connected with Shakerites was the Shaker school bond issue which will permit a new junior high and $400,000 worth of new high school classrooms to be built. All these issues were passed, as announced over the Public Address system Monday, November 2.

The mock election was run by the C. E. P. classes who chose the following Board of Elections: Nancy Fox, the head, in charge of personnel; Bruce Newman, tabulations; Karen Black, registration; Bill Woodbridge, properties; Bob Ferguson, publicity. Janet Prindle is "president" of the League of Women Voters and Mr. Klyver was faculty adviser.

Students voted in two precincts, either in front of the small auditorium or in the Ely gallery, according to whether they live east or west of Lee Road. Prior to the election there were three days of registration, necessary for sophomores and upperclassmen who have never registered or voted. To vote one was required to have lived in Ohio one year and in Cuyahoga county and this precinct for at least forty days. Regular registration procedure was used, including an oath that all the information given was true.

Last year, with the exception of one issue, all Shaker's choices tallied with the actual results. Out of 932 students, 660 voted in 1952. In this election 477 out of 1003 people in the school cast their ballots.

This is the first time that the Senior High was used as a real voting place and that the students were permitted to watch the proceedings. Previously, when voting was done at Onaway School, no students were allowed for fear that they might try to influence the voters on issues that concerned the school.

Raiders Win First Parma Bowl, Get First Claim to Gold Cup

Shaker's Red Raiders ruined Parma's 1953 Homecoming as they won their first L. E. L. victory of the season at the expense of the Redmen, 13-0. The win put Shaker one-up in the Shaker-Parma Bowl Game series that was started this season, and gives the victors a one-year lease on a gold trophy offered by the Parma Booster Club and the Shaker Dads' Club.

For Coach Halderman it was the third straight season that his squad has whipped the league's newest member. After the game in the locker room Shaker's mentor said, "We blocked on offense and gang-tackled on defense, and we really ran."

The Raiders made no doubt about it as they took the ball on their own 24-yard line and drove 76 yards in 13 plays the first time that they had possession of the ball. It was halfback Stan Palevsky who registered the Red and White's first touchdown, slashing off tackle for 9 yards at 1:14 of the first quarter. Quarterback Karch's pass to Charlie Burger made it 7-0.

Then for the next two periods the teams exchanged a total of 11 punts, seven of them by Shaker, with neither team scoring.

A partially blocked kick of Parma's set up Shaker's final score. With the ball resting on the Redmen's 16-yard line, 138-pound end Jack Doyle gave Shaker an insurance touchdown as he pulled down a 16-yard pass unmolested in the end zone on the opening play of the fourth stanza.

It was Shaker all the way as the closest Parma could get into their opponents' territory was down to Shaker's 24-yard line. The Raiders' hard-driving backfield amassed 210 yards on the ground while its defense limited Parma to 86 by rushing and 94 by passing. Dan Clawson led the ground assault with 79 yards in 8 attempts. Karch completed 7 out of 13 passes for 89 yards with Doyle being his main target, catching 4 aerials totaling 81 yards.

'Y' Boys Wash Cars

During the week of October 19 to October 24, the senior chapter of Hi-Y, under the direction of Bob Alfred, president, and Jay Sload, vice-president, sponsored a car washing drive. This campaign was for the purpose of obtaining enough money to give their annual Christmas party for needy orphans. With five boys to a car, they went out during the week to sell their services. The highlight of the drive was Saturday morning when they washed cars in the parking lot near the girls' gym. A great amount of credit should be given to the senior chapter for contributing to such a worthy cause.

Slumberless Sleeping Beauties (?) Cavort

On Friday night, November 20, the All-Girls' Slumber Party is to be held at Shaker Senior High. All girls are to report to the girls' gym by 9:00 p. m., armed with blankets, p. j.'s, and pep, for to be sure, this activities are just a few of the numerous activities in which the girls will participate.

party is to be a "non-sleeping" party. Various activities have been planned so that the girls' time may be occupied with more than chatter. There will be fudge and popcorn to make in the cooking room; and swimming, a movie, and social room

This affair is entirely planned by the student-faculty-parent committees of the Social Council Advisory board. Sally Cowan and Janet Gates are the co-chairmen. Police, parents, and members of the faculty will chaperon throughout the night. Because we are obliged to follow certain fire and police laws, there will definitely be no smoking!

New Father Newman, Back From Pacing, Happy With Baby Boy

At exactly 1:26 Sunday afternoon, October 18, John Guy Newman II made his entrance into this fine world. His worried father had waited twenty hours at the hospital and had consumed three packs of cigarettes.

"Is he cute?" brought an affirmative reply from the proud papa, John Newman of the history department. "Whom does he look like?" was answered in one word—"Me!"

The 8-pound 19½-inch boy, who already has a crew hair cut, was described as a husky, sort of muscular specimen. He opens one eye at a time and possesses quite a deep voice. Mr. Newman, who is experienced in the art of changing diapers, is planning to bring his future football player to the Christmas Party.

Dolly Having Problems? Dimples

In answer to numerous frustrated and confused Shakerites who wrote letters to me, I am answering as many letters as possible in this issue. Any letters that are not answered or which were late will be considered for following issues. Helpfully yours, Dolly Dimples (C. M. L. C.)*

Dear Dolly Dimples,

I am madly in love with a football player, a massive hulk of towering strength (third string on the scrub team), but he just doesn't seem to notice me at all. I have lost at least twenty pounds pining away for him and I know I won't be able to live without him. I am desperate! Please help me.

Frantically yours,
Distraught

Dear Distraught,

You seem to be somewhat perturbed by this young man. Don't let him get you down. My advice is patent your weight-losing process, get rich quick, and find a new boy friend. DD

Dear Dolly Dimples,

My father won't let me have the car for every Friday night date. What shall I do?

Sincerely yours,
Q. Y. F.

Dear Q. Y. F.,

Go out on Saturdays. DD

Dear Dolly Dimples,

I have been knitting socks for my boy friend for the last three years and now his feet have grown! What can I do?

Sincerely yours,
Knit Wit Pearl

Dear Knit Wit Pearl,

Give them to him anyhow; he can used them as covers for his golf clubs. Besides, big feet are better than a swelled head! DD

Dear Dolly Dimples,

When I sit on my boy friend's lap the creases come out of his pants. What shall I do?

Worriedly,
Chubby

Dear Chubby,

Buy him a steam iron for Christmas. DD

Dear Dolly Dimples,

I'm a senior girl and I don't have any dates. Will you help me?

Please!
Moldy

Dear Moldy Senior,

I give up!

Parties for Those Who Support Them

For about three years now, ever since the social program came into existence, the social council has striven to plan a variety of events which it hoped would satisfy the needs of each and every student. For this reason it has made a concerted attempt to include numerous events of both the date and no-date variety. It has done an excellent job of planning activities ranging from dressy dances and informal date affairs to carnivals and open houses which, it was thought, the majority of the school would find appealing and to which they would therefore give their support.

However, throughout this time it has become more and more evident that there is a certain group of students made up of some from each class who seem to take the most interest in all activities of our school from sports and plays to dances and parties. This group provides the fundamental support for all activities, since its members look to the school for their social life as well as their education. This group is mainly a dating crowd, and so those parties which are planned with the thought of the students having dates in mind are most appealing to them. But when the social program calls for a no-date affair, the members of the dating crowd must do one of three things: come to the affair without a date, come with a date and break social council policy, or go elsewhere for their entertainment.

If, on the other hand, the majority of the rest of the students would support these no-date affairs, this would be quite fair, for no one is excluding the dating group from the activities; they have a choice of either coming or not. Recently, however, the majority of the school has not been supporting the no-date affairs, and if a large number of the dating Shakerites had not attended some of them, there would have been a very meager crowd present, as witness the Student Open House, a party which offered some form of activity for almost everyone, yet which was attended largely by dating people. Perhaps, therefore, if those students who have not yet adapted themselves to dating and other aspects of high school social life are not going to take a greater part in the parties that are being planned with their needs expressly in mind, the Social Council should consider the idea of trying instead to please those Shakerites who are the staunch supporters of the social program and change some of those no-date affairs coming up in the future to date affairs to which it would be permissible to come either with or without a date. There is no need to change the events, for surely a party like the Student Open House would be just as much fun as a date event as a no-date one. This would be placing the emphasis where it will be appreciated and also insure better support for the future social events.

What's Up! with Ann and Krup

"Hey, Krup, what happened to Howie?"

"Oh, nothing—he just passed out. I guess the shock was too much for him. After a year and a half of writing What's Up! we finally met the printer's deadline."

"By the way, Krup, did you go to the Open House?"

"Yes, everybody I talked to had a terrific time. Did you see Harold Richman and Chubby Holmes using all the tricks of the game at the ping-pong table?"

"Nope! I was down in the Elbow Room watching 'Zip' Zednick and 'New Papa' Newman doubletiming. (Arthur Murray taught them dancing in a hurry.) Did you go swimming?"

"Yes, and I saw Sally Fullerton, Mary Jane Price, and Judy Niergarth sporting the latest beachwear (tank suits and T-shirt). Speaking of tank suits, did you Shakerites know that the girls have some bright new green ones?"

Ann

"I never knew Mr. Jeffrey and Mr. Caldwell were so talented, Krup. They did an outstanding job leading the singing in 206."

Seen dancing in the cafeteria after the singing were Luke Karlovec and Lou Bolt, Hank Dimlich and Carolyn Noble, Chuck Richards and Debbie Davies, and Tom Friedman and Diane Perry. The next dance will be a week from tomorrow night, November 14. Nobody should miss this annual affair honoring the band, cheerleaders, and football team. So come on, boys, get a date!

Krup

Notes About People You Know

Congratutions to Danny Clawson, Sarge Karch, and Pete Leone for being chosen members of the Cleveland News' Weekly Dream Team. Nice going, fellas!

Many Shaker gals are recovering from gala college weekends or eagerly waiting to go. Nancy Lien was entertained at Ohio Wesleyan's homecoming. Kathie Kazhal and Sally Maras visited Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, and Judy Himmelman and Joanne Faragher went to the University of Michigan. Joanie Icove will soon be going to Penn.

"Ann, What's Up?"

"Certainly not my grades! After that last report card it's back to the books for me."

So long till next issue, Shakerites!

'Two Cities' Lose Tales In Ancient Senior Minds

Not more than a week ago a frantic D. S. (Disheveled Sophomore) came racing up the "down" stairs to me explaining that I, as a D. S. (Distinguished Senior), could help him pass the Tale of Two Cities test by telling him the plot of the aforementioned gruesome epic. Having read the book cover to preface, I lied that I could.

"Quick," he said. "The test is this next period, and I haven't started the book. What's it about?"

I was not prepared for his calling my bluff, but I told him all of the story I could remember. "It takes place in London and Rome," I started. "No, on second thought, Paris is one of the two cities. Maybe it's Rome and Paris. No, I remember their crossing water. Who? Well, now I'm not sure who. That water could have been the Mediterranean, of course. Wait. It's all coming back to me. It was Paris and London. Or was New York thrown in somewhere there? No. America wasn't discovered then. When? 1792. Oh that's right; the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776, so I guess America was discovered by then. New York may have been in the story. But don't take my word for it; it's been two years since I read the book. Well anyway, these two guys looked alike. Twins? No, just close friends. As I said, these two guys looked alike and Lucy was in love with one of them. In fact, she was married to one of them. Which one? The one that wasn't Sidney Carton. What was her name? Lucy. At least I think it was Lucy. Did you see "I Love Lucy" last Monday? No? Neither did I. Well anyway, for some reason, Lucy and the guy who was married to her and who wasn't Sidney Carton went to Paris on business. Somehow Sidney was over there too; when the guy who wasn't Sidney Carton was condemned to death during the revolution, Sidney took his place on the gallows because he loved Lucy so much. For that matter I guess they both did."

Just as the tardy bell rang, I got to Madame Defarge. It's a good thing the bell rang, though, because I couldn't remember that part of the story at all.

Lady Athletes Try Out; Win Membership in Clubs

The girls' athletic and swimming clubs of the High School have been conducting tryouts and taking in new members during the last few weeks.

The Sharcs Club was the first of the three groups to hold tryouts and accept their new members. The old members had two practice sessions and then two tryouts. The new members were chosen by the number of points they got on the swimming and skills test. On Monday, October 12, the following girls were initiated: Carol Barber, Hetty Cowan, Barbara Cox, Joanne Crume, Debbie Davies, Peggy Fox, Jane Goodman, Mary Lou Higdon, Nancy Jensen, Barb Krupnick, Ronnie Loeser, Pat Sydow, and Marilyn Telepak.

The Girls' Swimming Leaders had their initiation and dinner after school on Wednesday, October 21. The girls trying out took a written test and then a swimming test of strokes and dives in the pool. Those initiated were: Barbara Cox, Joanne Crume, Paula Danaceau, Joyce Ferguson, Peggy Fox, Mary Lou Higdon, Judy Hinnant, Ann McClelland, Jane Peirce, Ann Richards, Lynne Schiring, Sally Stillinger, and Janice Twigg.

Girls' Gym Leaders started their tryouts with a written test on October 7. The following Wednesday they had a skills test followed by a playday and a pot luck dinner. The new members have not yet been announced.

These clubs are service organizations to the school. The Gym Leaders referee intramural games, and the Swimming Leaders are supervising the elementary swimming on Thursday afternoons.

Council Makes Visits

On November 18 members of the Student Council will visit other schools. They will leave in the morning and be at their assigned schools in time for lunch. The heads of the Student Councils at these schools will act as hosts. Schools to be visited are: Canton McKinley, Massillon, University School, Andrews School for Girls in Willoughby, Hathaway Brown, Youngstown Boardman, Western Reserve Academy, Rocky River, Kent Roosevelt, Mansfield, and Canton Lehman.

The purpose of the visits is to see what facilities other schools have and how we may improve our school. Bill Boardman is chairman of the event.

Dance Honors Team, Cheerleaders, Band

Shakerites, here's your chance to honor the students who worked so hard to make the football season a success. It's the annual Band-Cheerleaders-Football Dance on November 14. This is an informal dance and will be held in the girls' gym and the social lounge from 8:30 to 12:00. A special attraction this year is music by a name band.

The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the queen, who will be nominated in homerooms and elected by the football team.

Testing! Testing! How're your powers of observation these days, seniors? Are you on the beam? You've been quafling daily nigh onto three years now from our hall founts—but how many of you can rattle off from memory the patent number that stares up at you as you imbibe? Quickly, now—and don't sneak a peek!

Could the reason for some of those dismal grades on those (ugh) Friday quizzes be that there are so many "Drag-nuts" among us?

Just a hunch—just a hunch—but the fact is, it is pretty dull to settle back down to logarithms and irregular French verbs Thursday nights after a safari with Joe and Frank into the grisly realm of homicide.

Bouquets and a big hand to our favorite "Men of Distinction": members of the Shaker Dad's Club, whose main purpose is obviously dreaming up things for us—all of them pleasant. Latest manifestation of the fact that their hearts are 14K: the football squad's recent jaunt to Massillon that they hosted. More fun!

Too bad our social calendar doesn't include a Sadie Hawkins' Day dance this month. Think of the field day the decoration committee would have. Can you think of anything more delectable than that chubby little dish "Honest Abe" (formerly Mysterious) Yokum of Dogpatch pursuing poke chops all around the walls of the gym?

College night really makes a senior feel like a senior. Right, seniors? Of course, after next Tuesday night, all your problems will be solved. Just think—you'll know exactly where you're going—and why. What am I saying?

"Support, co-operation, and spirit"—them's "Karch" words, Shakerites, and let's make 'em our slogan.

Seniors Think About Sophs

The outlook isn't brilliant for the senior girls today;
Ruthanne has stolen Chuck, Danny is lost to Kay.
And so when dating prospects dwindle down to even less,
A sickly silence falls upon each senior in a dress.

A straggling few give up in deep despair. The rest
Cling to that hope that springs eternal in the human breast;
They think that even one date would give each one a chance
To show her company interesting, that she even knows how to dance.

Oh, somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light;
And somewhere boys are laughing, and somewhere girls still rate,
But there is no joy at the hen party, for NO SENIOR HAS A DATE!!!!!

Have you ever noticed the girls playing hockey after school? They are participating in the girls' intramural program. This program is set up by the Physical Education Department and the Girls' Leaders' Club.

There are varied reasons why a girl will come out and spend her time at after-school sports. She may be coming just for fun, she may be earning points for a letter, or she may be working toward varsity. To be eligible for varsity, she must miss no more than one practice. The following girls are members of their respective varsity teams:

Seniors—Black, Bolt, Chepey, M. Davis, J. Davis, Douglas, Ferguson, Finn, Gries, Hansen, Heiss, Ippolito, Janney, Kestenbaum, Krinsky, Krupnick, Maerkle, Mitten, Pekoc, Prindle, Rees, Richards, Rosene, Sheppard, Speer, Tamesin, Wein and Yeager.

Juniors—Allen, Barber, Bassett, Carl, Chiara, Cozzens, Deutsch, Edwards, Eichner, Fellinger, Gally, Heidtman, Hinnant, Jamieson, Killpack, Lowry, Mayher, McClelland, McKee, Meyer, Miller, Mintz, Rand, Rhodes, Tootikian, Twigg and Williams.

Sophomores—Bell, Bev Biederman, Barb Biederman, Bramson, Brandwan, Brouwer, Burt, Cornwell, Danaceau, Danka, Davies, Douglas, Dowling, Eglin, Ervano, Finkle, Jensen, Perry, Schauer, Telepak, Watterson, Weisel, White, and Williams.

Open House Makes Hit; Community Sing Stars

On Saturday night, October the twenty-fourth, things were really hopping here at Shaker High. From 8:30 until 12:00 the combined efforts of the students and faculty produced our annual Open House.

The community singing, under the leadership of Jack Freer and Ann McClelland, turned out to be one of the top hits of the evening along with the following attractions: ballroom dancing in the cafeteria, square dancing in the gym, double-timing and refreshments in the Elbow Room, card games in 105, a movie in the small auditorium, swimming in the pool, Ping-Pong in 101, basketball, volleyball, and badminton in the boys' gym, and last—but not least—the Bake Sale in room 224!

All those teachers who took time out of their weekend to come over to school and supervise the various activities deserve a big hand of applause, as do all the students who worked so hard to make the Open House a success.

Previous to this year, the Open House was held in the spring but the Social Council tried something new by having it in the fall, to take the place of the all-school Hallowe'en party. Opinions and discussion pertaining to this change will be welcomed by the Social Council.

Cardinals Tumble Raiders, 7-0; Lose in 2nd Half to Lakewood

As a result of the 7-0 defeat pinned on them by the Shaw Cardinals, Jim Halderman's Red Raiders were ruled mathematically out of contention for the L. E. L. championship. For Shaker it was their second straight league defeat in their first three games.

The Cardinals won the toss and elected to receive. The kickoff was returned to Shaw's 32-yard line, and in 12 plays they chewed up 68 yards of real estate in their downfield drive to push over the winning margin. The score came at 7:05, and that was the ball game with Shaker only threatening once late in the final period.

With the ball on the 4-yard line, Jay Hunton, the L. E. L. 220-yard dash champ, drove over for a touchdown, but one which was nullified by a holding penalty. However, on the next play Halfback Dale Partch made no mistake about it as he scooted 19 yards around end for the score.

In the fourth quarter Shaker started a drive from its own 41-yard line down to Shaw's 14-yard line where Karch was stopped on fourth down just three inches short of the necessary yardage for a first down. But a Shaker recovery of a Cardinal fumble three plays later gave the Red and White their best scoring opportunity of the evening.

In two plays Shaker was knocking on the doorstep two yards from the goal line. On the next play Shaker was penalized five yards for offside, and that was the break of the ball game. The Shaw line then dug in and threw Karch for an 18-yard loss in two plays to crush Shaker's final rally.

At Lakewood, Coach Jim Scullion received a real scare before his powerful Rangers walked off the field, drubbing Shaker for the fourth year in a row, 33-19. It was Shaker which dominated the play in the first half as the gun sounded with the two teams deadlocked 13-13.

The Rangers scored first at 8:05, but a Lakewood fumble put the Raiders right back in the game. The equalizer came at 3:55 when End Jack Doyle grabbed a 22-yard pass from Karch in the end zone.

At 5:44 of the second stanza, Shaker seized the lead when Halfback Stan Palevsky got behind the Lakewood secondary and pulled in a 30-yard touchdown pass. With 49 seconds left in the half, Bin Barta knotted the game with a 14-yard touchdown run.

But Lakewood's size was too much for the Red and White, and with 22 seconds remaining in the third quarter they took the lead for good as Ben Williams crashed over the middle from the one. The Rangers added two more scores in the fourth before Karch connected with Palevsky on an 8-yard pass in the end zone.

Raider Harriers Take 2nd in L. E. L., 5th in District; Clokey Qualifies

Turning in an excellent time of 10:15, captain Dick Clokey took seventh place in a field of ninety-seven runners from ten schools in the Eastern District cross-country meet last Saturday to pace the Raider harriers and qualify himself for the State meet for the second straight year. The team itself finished fifth behind Adams, East, Bedford, and Collinwood, the first three going to Columbus. Arthur Bankhurst also ran well for Shaker, finishing twentieth, followed by John Spivack, Howard Filston, and Mike Gavlak.

Lakewood made it seven consecutive years that it has won the L. E. L. cross-country championship when the Rangers scored 21 points, 6 points off a perfect score, in the L. E. L. Meet held over a wet Forest Hills course.

The Red Raider Harriers finished in second place with 77 points followed by Euclid, Cleveland Heights, Parma, and Shaw in that order.

Dick Clokey finished first for Shaker, and placed eighth in the meet covering the two-mile run in 10:29. Others scoring for Shaker were John Spivack, tenth; Art Bankhurst, fourteenth; Howard Filston, sixteenth; and Earl Seidman, thirtieth.

At Parma, the two-milers won their second straight dual meet as they defeated the Redmen, 26-30. Clokey turned in an excellent time of 10:28 over the cold and wet Ridgewood Golf Course. His winning time was just two-tenths of a second off the winning time Rhodes' Ed Newman made in winning the Senate meet over the same course a few days before.

Jayvees Repel Shaw, 12-6, Almost Take Lakewood

Shaker's Red Raider Jayvee team made it two L. E. L. victories in a row as they pushed across two touchdowns in the first half to topple the Parma sophomores, 12-6.

Fullback Jack Fejes accounted for both the victor's scores on line plunges of 5 and 6 yards. Jack carried the ball 6 times for 42 yards, while halfback Walt Friedman averaged 8.7 yards per carry in 7 attempts compiling 61 yards.

In the Shaw game, the Jayvees ended the Cardinal's three-game winning streak by handing them their first loss of the season, 24-7.

Halfback George Brown paced the Red and White with a pair of six-pointers. George's scores came on off-tackle runs of 5 and 62 yards. Fejes turned a fake punt into a 31-yard touchdown run for Shaker's other score.

Intramural Highlights

Coach Bob Rice's fall intramural sports program got off into high gear with the running off of the intramural track and swimming meets.

The sixth period gym class nosed out the seventh period phys. ed. class by one point to walk off with top honors in the intramural track meet. The winning group consisted of Joe Gavlak, Mark Burkons, Don Peramici, Ed Hale, Howard Gilford, and Tom Neff.

Four records were broken, and sophomore Chick Tate, ineligible for a year since transferring from University School, broke both the low hurdle and the running broad jump record. Ron Cochrane set a new time in the 880-yard run. Bob Young broke the record for the 12-pound shot put.

Marking the second time in the last two years, the juniors captured first place in the sixth annual intramural swim meet. Close behind in runner-up spot were the sophomores with 66 points; third were the seniors with 60.

Three old records fell as Bill Haag, another transfer from University School, clipped .5 of a second off Ted Richter's 40-yard breaststroke mark. Tate recorded 63 points in the diving, breaking Bill Harwell's record of 45 points. The 60-yard medley relay team consisting of Dave Engel, Jay Sload, and Haag broke last year's record by 1.4 seconds.

Pigskin Season Closes With Euclid, Lehman

Only two more teams remain on Coach Jim Halderman's rough 9-game 1953 football schedule, and it appears that the two remaining encounters will prove to be the toughest of the three-month long season.

Tonight the Red Raiders wind up their L. E. L. play when they journey to Euclid High to take on a strong Panther eleven. The game gets under way at 8.

According to Coach Halderman, "Euclid is the surprise of the league. I knew that they were a big outfit, but I didn't know they were going to be so tough."

Going into tonight's game, Coach Sparky DiBiasio's team is in fourth place in the L. E. L., having dropped Parma 20-15 and Shaw 21-0 while succumbing to Lakewood 23-14 and Cleveland Heights 20-7. Earlier in the season Euclid rolled over Ashtabula 40-7, and then was edged out by Canton Lehman 14-12.

Ken Watson, a 185-pound fullback, is the key man in the Panther attack. He passes, punts, and combines shiftiness and power in his running, and is recognized as one of the district's outstanding backs.
